

The Bucket People

Dear Elizabeth Finnegan,

In order to improve how the US treats immigrants, it is my belief that we should pass the DREAM Act. The waiting list to immigrate to the US can take up to five years, this leads people to immigrate illegally. The DREAM Act would not only help immigrants to become citizens, but it will also reduce the number of undocumented people in the US which will help to improve safety all over the country. We first need to improve the DREAM act to be passed in congress to be effective in the US. We then need to start helping undocumented immigrants in the US by using the DREAM act to their advantage and to become full-fledged citizens. Please take this option into consideration.

In partnership,

Sue Murphy